Harrington & Abbott believe that natural fibres provide the most effective and most environmentally friendly fillings for your mattress

What will you find in the Kelmscott mattress?

Hemp

This carbon negative powerhouse keeps you and your mattress super fresh and clean. Thanks to its antimicrobial and breathable properties, you can enjoy a hygienic and clean sleep environment.

Flax

These naturally cooling fibres are experts at keeping heat and moisture at bay, just like having a refreshing fan built into your mattress!

Let's dive into the science behind pocket springs!

The king size Kelmscott mattress contains 4524 pocket springs.*

Pocket springs are like the superheroes of mattress support. They're considered the cream of the crop when it comes to giving your body the right kind of support while you snooze. Imagine a mattress with anywhere from 1000 to a whopping 30,000 springs! And the cool thing is, each spring is its own boss, so if you're a restless sleeper, your movements are less likely to bother your sleeping partner.

The super-advanced Cortec™ core pocket springs take things up a notch. They're like the rockstars of stability, durability, and cosy support as you catch your zzz's. And these Cortec™ springs are eco-friendly champs too. When they retire from mattress duty, they're 100% recyclable - now that's responsible sleeping!

Now, let's talk about the Revolution springs, aka the trusty sidekicks in all Harrington & Abbott mattresses. They're like your mattress's backup dancers, doubling the support game. And that's not all - we've got micro springs in the mix too. These little champs are like the secret agents of support, sneaking between the larger springs to make sure every single nook and cranny of your body gets the pampering it deserves while you snooze away.

You can rest easy knowing that your mattress is backed by some seriously smart spring tech.

*Spring counts are always quoted as the number of springs in a king size model.

Wool Viscose

Wool and viscose team up to create the perfect combo, making sure you stay comfortable whilst you are asleep. Like a dreamy tag team that's all about enhancing your sleep experience.

Cotton

Feel the gentle embrace of cotton - soft and refreshingly cool against your skin. Soothing and comforting.

British Wool

Billowy and breathable filling to keep you supremely comfortable at night. Natural softness and comfort to help you rest peacefully.

Woollen tufts

These fluffy woollen tufts are like your mattresses little huggers! They work their magic by snuggling all the fillings together, making sure everything stays right where it should be.

Side stitched

The Kelmscott mattress has 2 rows of side stitching. Side stitching plays a crucial role in maintaining the structure of the mattress. The technique helps to prevent sagging and ensures that you can enjoy the entire sleep surface without weakening edges over time. This makes sure you have a cosy sleep experience from edge to edge.

Peace of mind

We believe our Harrington & Abbott range will give you the wonderful sleep you deserve. But hey, we understand that sometimes things might not go as planned. No worries, though! We've got your back with a ten-year product warranty. If any issues pop up, we'll take care of it.
